写作:

Dear Smith,

I'm Li Jin, president of the Student Union of our school. Having learned that you are looking for a guide for your visit to our local museum this weekend, I am writing to recommend myself.

With a good command of English and outgoing personality, I think I will be a good guide for you. Besides, I have gained some relevant experience while working as a volunteer in the museum. Additionally, as a history lover, my insight into the local history and culture is bound to make your visit enjoyable and unforgettable.

Your consideration of my recommendation will be highly appreciated and I hope you will have a good weekend!

Yours,

Li Jin

Text 1

W: Excuse me. Where is this bus going? I've come all the way from Lakeview, <sup>①</sup> and I'm trying to get to Red Rock.

M: This bus goes past Red Rock and on toward Oak Village. You might need to ask the bus driver to make a special stop for you.

Text 2

M: I just talked to the doctor. <sup>②</sup>We should give Susan one teaspoon of medicine three times per day until her fever goes away.

W: OK, I will give her some right now.

Text 3

W: Do you have any ideas to improve my study skills?

M: There are lots of special techniques and even classes on the subject of study skills, <sup>③</sup>but I think you should forget about all of that. Just study more!

Text 4

W: <sup>④</sup>I just finished this mystery book. It was so thrilling, but I'd like to read something totally different. Can you recommend another good book to me?

M: <sup>④</sup>I have a poetry book, a detective book, and another really good mystery book that you might like.

Text 5

W: Do you like cooking?

M: I love it. I really enjoy creating a meal from various ingredients and watching my friends enjoy it. It gives me a real sense of satisfaction. Do you enjoy cooking?

W: <sup>⑤</sup>No, I don't. It takes up too much time, and I really hate having to clean up after the meal.

Text 6

W: Have you heard of the National Library of St. Mark's? It's in Venice, Italy.

M: No, I haven't heard of it. What's so special about it?

W: It's one of the earliest surviving libraries in the world, and it has one of the greatest collections of classical texts.

M: Wow. When was it built?

W: In the 1500s. The designer was named Jacopo Sansovino. <sup>⑥</sup>He first designed the building in 1537. He died in 1570, but in 1588, Vincenzo Scamozzi finished construction of the library. Even before the library was finished, books were collected and lent out there, <sup>⑦</sup>so the library is considered to be the first public library.

M: Is it still open today?

W: Yes.

M: Do you know any other famous libraries in the world?

W: Yes. <sup>⑧</sup>The Royal Library of Alexandria was built in Egypt around 300 B. C. by a man named Ptolemy. But it doesn't actually exist anymore. Syria and Greece also housed a lot of ancient libraries, but many of them were destroyed in wars over the years.

Text 7

W: As a car lover and huge fan of James Bond movies, it's my pleasure to talk to you today about the release of the Vulcan super car. I'm here with Jack, a representative for Aston Martin. Jack, what can you tell me about this wonderful car you've made?

M: Only 24 have been built, and they retail for $2.3 million. <sup>⑩</sup>They are made of a special carbon fiber that is much lighter than metal, so they have much better fuel efficiency.

W: Only a special few will have a chance to drive one of these.

M: We've limited it so that only true sports car lovers have access to the Vulcan. We're setting a whole new standard in luxury supercars.

W: I hear it can go from 0—60 mph in less than three seconds. And it'll top out at 200 mph, right?

M: Right. It was styled completely in-house by the Aston Martin design team. <sup>⑪</sup>It carries the traditional Aston Martin values of "Power, Beauty, and Soul".

W: <sup>⑫</sup>Can we take a test drive?

M: <sup>⑬</sup>You bet! Hop in!

Text 8

M: <sup>⑭</sup>Welcome to our game show. Congratulations to last week's winners, who will shortly be receiving top music discs. And now go on to the competition of this week. Audience friends! Make sure you've got a pen or pencil ready so you can write down the details. And make sure you're near a phone so you can ring it. Right. This week we're offering ten prizes, so <sup>⑮</sup>there's a chance for ten people to win two free tickets for the concert on April 23rd at the International Stadium. You must have all three answers before you ring in. Then you will be asked for your name, address, telephone number and age. The usual twelve lines will be open at the end of the program, so give us a ring as soon as you know the answers. If you can't get through the first time, then keep trying and trying. But, <sup>⑯</sup>you can only make one call and, <sup>⑰</sup>in order to win the two tickets, your three answers must be completely correct. Good luck!
